Elusive City:

Housing the North American City Michael Doucet, John C. Weaver, 1991-08-06 Doucet and Weaver begin this empirical analytical and narrative study with an analysis of the evolution of land development as an enterprise and continue with an examination of house design and construction practices the development of the apartment building and an account of class and age as they relate to housing tenure They also relate developments in Hamilton to the current state of urban historiography using their case study to resolve discrepancies and contradictions in the literature Among the major themes the authors deal with is a controversial exploration of what they see as a central North American urge the desire to own a home Other themes include the social allocation of urban space the quality and affordability of housing the increased interest of large corporations in the land development and financial service industries and a comparative analysis of housing in Canada and the United States The authors have drawn on civic and business records dating from the early nineteenth century to the latest planning data Combining this information with their comprehensive analysis Doucet and Weaver show that current housing problems and potential solutions are better understood when seen as part of a historical process They provide a critical assessment of the ways in which contemporary society produces shelter and question the use of technical innovations alone to resolve housing crises

Encyclopedia of the City Roger W. Caves, 2005 A first class work of reference that will be both an essential resource for independent study as well as a useful aid in teaching a solid but also provocative starting point for wider exploration of the city

Greening the City Dorothee Brantz, Sonja Dümpelmann, 2011-06-24 The modern city is not only pavement and concrete Parks gardens trees and other plants are an integral part of the urban environment Often the focal points of social movements and political interests green spaces represent far more than simply an effort to balance the man made with the natural A city s history with and approach to its parks and gardens reveals much about its workings and the forces acting upon it Our green spaces offer a unique and valuable window on the history of city life The essays in Greening the City span over a century of urban history moving from fin de si cle Sofia to green efforts in urban Seattle The authors pre sent a wide array of cases that speak to global concerns through the local and specific with topics that include green space planning in Barcelona and Mexico City the distinction between public and private nature in Los Angeles the ecological diversity of West Berlin and the historical and cultural significance of hybrid spaces designed for sports The essays collected here will make us think differently about how we study cities as well as how we live in them Contributors Dorothee Brantz Technische Universit t Berlin Peter Clark University of Helsinki Lawrence Culver Utah State University Konstanze Sylva Domhardt Swiss Federal Institute of Technology Zurich Sonja D mpelmann University of Maryland Zachary J S Falck Independent Scholar Stefanie Hennecke Technical University Munich Sonia Hirt Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University Salla Jokela University of Helsinki Jens Lachmund Maastricht University Gary McDonogh Bryn Mawr College Jarmo Saarikivi University of Helsinki Jeffrey Craig Sanders

In the Heart of Spain Thomas Ewing Moore, 1927     What Cities Say Emily Talen, 2024-07-23

In What Cities Say Emily Talen provides a wide ranging yet concise synthesis of the fundamental drivers of built form its social and cultural meaning and how we should interpret it Including thirty five distinct city patterns and forms Talen develops a language of interpretation to understand the motive and meaning behind the city and its elements By exposing these meanings Talen asserts that we will be in a stronger position to articulate and argue for the kinds of cities we want

The American City Arthur Hastings Grant, Harold S. Bottenheim, 1918     Olde Penn, 1923     Integrated Architecture Liangyong Wu, 2013-12-01 Integrated Architecture is both a historical and contemporary work The book was first published in 1989 by Wu Liangyong one of contemporary China's most influential architects and theoreticians with the title A General Theory on Architecture His eminence is also recognised by the international architectural community above all the group of architectural and urban planning theoreticians battling for a more decisive reform to the concepts methodologies and practices presiding over the construction and requalification of the contemporary metropolis First met professor Wu Liangyong in 2005 at the Faculty of Architecture at the Tsinghua University of Beijing his Faculty Wu Liangyong founded the school in 1949 at the age of 24 together with Liang Sicheng the father of modern Chinese architectural studies From this moment more than sixty seven years ago professor Liangyong has remained a central figure in Beijing's academic community He remains a constant source of inspiration not only national to education reforms and above all theoretical methodological and operative research into architecture the city and the territory He is a rare gure present throughout a lengthy historical period witness the world over to tumultuous upheavals in society and its cities A period whose most dramatic and exalting manifestations were perhaps to be found in China a period of war of hope of revolutions of great leaps forward of presumptions horrors errors new leaps forward and incomprehensible economic growth of irreversible social and cultural metamorphoses and what interests us most as architects of staggering urban growth and territorial transformations The intellect of this minute and genteel gure held fast against the storms of history The observation of events and the humanist and scienti c principles of his personal culture continuously nourished an increasingly more effective re ection on the meaning of architecture in today s world He also clearly saw its inextricable ties to the substance of the city and the impossibility to substitute the gure of the architect scientist humanist and artist A few years after our meeting having absorbed direct lessons from Wu s work as an architect and theoretician I proposed an Italian translation of an anthology of his writings The material was to be drawn from his many books and essays on architecture and the city published continuously over the course of his incomparable career Professor Wu Liangyong responded with a challenge in lieu of this anthology of texts he proposed a full translation in Italian and English of a book published twenty years ago 1989 s A General Theory on Architecture Given the pace of cultural debate it would not have been out of place to imagine a book rmly sedimented in history I understood instead that it was a milestone in the expression of Wu Liangyong s ideas a benchmark that in all likelihood served as the starting point for his later theories even the most recent Published in other fundamental essays they range across the vast eld of human settlements touching on all components of the man made environment Lucio Valerio Barbera The Speaker ,1907 THE AMERICAN CITY ,1928 Quito to Bogotá Arthur Clifford Veatch,1917 Dedicatoria y firma de Lidney Tracey a su amigo C T Short Esq City Club Bulletin ,1917 Legends of Texas James Frank Dobie,1924 A Wayfarer in Portugal Philip Sanford Marden,1927 The Kansas City Medical Index-lancet ,1894 Pasadena Bulletin of Research, Personnel and Service.
