Famine Echoes Cathal Póirtéir, 1995 Famine Echoes gives a unique perspective on the greatest tragedy in Irish history as descendants of Famine survivors recall the community memories of the great hunger Famine Echoes - Folk Memories of the Great Irish Famine Cathal Poirteir, 1995-09-01 Famine Echoes is a groundbreaking oral account of the Great Irish Potato Famine of 1845-52 telling the stories of its victims for the first time ever in their own words and those of their descendants When the potato crop failed no other food was available and the people perished by the hundreds of thousands along the roadside in the ditches in the fields from hunger and cold and what was even worse the famine fever The strongest men were reduced to mere skeletons and they could be met daily with the clothes hanging on them like ghosts The Great Irish Famine is the greatest tragedy in Irish history Over one million people died and nearly two million emigrated as a result Famine Echoes gives a voice to its victims offering a unique perspective on the Great Hunger the defining event of modern Irish history In Famine Echoes descendants of Famine survivors recall the community memories of the great hunger in their own words conveying like never before the heartbreak and horrors their relatives experienced This remarkable book a seminal record of the oral transmission of folk memory is a record of the last living link with the survivors of Ireland's most devastating historical event In the 1940s the Folklore Commission conducted interviews with thousands of elderly people around Ireland who remembered what they themselves had heard from ancestors who had survived the Famine Cathal Póirtéir has edited a selection of these recollections arranging the material in an order which follows the rough chronology of the Famine itself Famine Echoes is published to coincide with the RT Radio series of the same name Famine Echoes Table of Contents Folk Memory and the Famine Before the Bad Times Abundance Abused and the Blight Turnips Blood Herbs and Fish No Sin and You Starving Mouths Stained Green The Fever God Bless Us The Paupers and the Poorhouse Boilers Stirabout and Yellow Male New Lines and Male Roads Soupers Jumpers and Cat Breacs The Bottomless Coffin and the Famine Pit Landlords Grain and Government Agents Grabbers and Gombeen Men A Terrible Levelling of Houses The Coffin Ships and the Going Away Of Curses Kindness and Miraculous Food Appendix I Appendix II Borders of Belief Gregory J. Goalwin, 2022-07-15 Why have modern nationalists built religious identity as the foundational signifier of nationality in an increasingly secular world The cases of 20th century Ireland and Turkey reveal the answer religious nationalism is not a knee jerk reaction to secular modernization but a tool that forges new and independent national identities The Great Shame Thomas Keneally, 2010-09-22 Thomas Keneally recounts history with the uncanny skill of a great novelist whose only interest is to lay bare the human heart in all its hope and pain As he was able to do in Schindler's List he shows us in The Great Shame a people despised and rejected to the point of death who in the face of all their sorrows manage to keep their souls This story of oppression famine and emigration a principal chapter in the story of man's inhumanity to man becomes in Keneally's hands an act of resurrection Irishmen and Irishwomen of a century and a half ago live once more within the pages of this book Thomas Cahill author of How the Irish Saved Civilization In the nineteenth century Ireland lost half of its population to famine emigration to the United States and Canada and the forced transportation of convicts to Australia The forebears of Thomas Keneally author of Schindler's List were victims of that tragedy and in The Great Shame Keneally has written an astonishing monumental work that tells the full story of the Irish diaspora with the narrative grip and flair of a great novel Based on unique research among little known sources this masterly book surveys eighty years of Irish history through the eyes of political prisoners including Keneally's ancestors who left Ireland in chains and eventually found glory in one form or another in Australia and America We meet William Smith O'Brien leader of an uprising at the height of the Irish Famine who rose from solitary confinement in Australia to become the Mandela of his age Thomas Francis Meagher whose escape from Australian captivity led to a glittering American career as an orator a Union general and governor of Montana John Mitchel who became a Confederate newspaper reporter gave two of his sons to the Southern cause was imprisoned with Jefferson Davis and returned to Ireland to become mayor of Tipperary and John Boyle O'Reilly who fled a life sentence in Australia to become one of nineteenth century America's leading literary lights Through the lives of many such men and women famous and obscure some heroes and some fools most a little of both all of them stubborn acutely sensitive and devastatingly charming we become immersed in the Irish experience and its astonishing history From Ireland to Canada and the United States to the bush towns of Australia we are plunged into stories of tragedy survival and triumph All are vividly portrayed in Keneally's spellbinding prose as he reveals the enormous influence the exiled Irish have had on the English speaking world A terrible and personal saga history delivered with a scholar's density of detail but with the individualizing power of a multi-talented novelist William Kennedy

When the Potato Failed Cormac Ó Gráda,Richard Paping,E. Vanhaute,2007 The decade that gave rise to the term the Hungry Forties in Europe is often regarded and rightly so as one of deprivation unrest and revolution Two events the Great Irish Famine and the various political events of 1848 stand out This book is the first to discuss the subsistence crisis of the 1840s in a truly comparative way This subsistence crisis may be divided into two rather distinct elements On the one hand the failure of the potato caused by the new unfamiliar fungus phytophthora infestans which first struck Europe in mid 1845 resulted in a catastrophe in Ireland that killed about one million people and radically transformed its landscape and economy Poor potato crops in 1845 and in the following years also resulted in significant excess mortality elsewhere in Europe On the other hand this period and 1846 in particular was also one of poor wheat and rye harvests throughout much of Europe Failure of the grain harvest alone rarely resulted in a subsistence crisis but the combination of poor potato and grain harvests in a single place was a lethal one Connections between the local and the global between the economic and the political and between the rural and the industrial make the crisis of the late 1840s a multi layered one This book offers a comparative perspective on the causes and the effects of what is sometimes considered as the last European subsistence crisis It begins with an extensive introduction that treats the topic in comparative perspective The subsistence crisis had its most catastrophic impact in Ireland and three chapters in the current volume are concerned mainly with that country A fourth chapter uses price data to shed comparative perspective on the crisis while the remaining nine chapters are case studies covering countries ranging from Sweden to Spain and from Scotland to Prussia Throughout the contributors focus on a range of common themes such as the extent of harvest deficits the functioning of food markets fertility and mortality and public action at local and national levels Cormac O Grada is professor of economics at University College Dublin He has worked extensively on the history of famines in Ireland and worldwide Richard Paping teaches economic and social history and economics at University of Groningen He has done extensive research on developments in standard of living economy and demography in the Netherlands Eric Vanhaute is professor social and economic history and world history at Ghent University He has mainly published on the history of the rural society and of labour markets in Flanders and outside Table of
