Global Monitoring Report:

Global Monitoring Report 2004 ,2004-01-01 References pp 217 228 Global Monitoring Report 2010 World Bank,International Monetary Fund,2010-05-04 What is the human cost of the global economic crisis This year s Global Monitoring Report The MDGs after the Crisis examines the impact of the worst recession since the Great Depression on poverty and human development outcomes in developing countries Although the recovery is under way the impact of the crisis will be lasting and immeasurable The impressive precrisis progress in poverty reduction will slow particularly in low income countries in Africa No household in developing countries is immune Gaps will persist to 2020 In 2015 20 million more people in Sub Saharan Africa will be in extreme poverty and 53 million more people globally Even households above the 1 25 a day poverty line in higher income developing countries are coping by buying cheaper food delaying other purchases reducing visits to doctors working longer hours or taking multiple jobs The crisis will also have serious costs on human development indicators 1 2 million more children under age five and 265 000 more infants will die between 2009 and 2015 350 000 more students will not complete primary education in 2015 100 million fewer people will have access to safe drinking water in 2015 because of the crisis History tells us that if we let the recovery slide and allow the crisis to lead to widespread domestic policy failures and institutional breakdowns in poor countries the negative impact on human development outcomes especially on children and women will be disastrous The international financial institutions and international community responded strongly and quickly to the crisis but more is needed to sustain the recovery and regain the momentum in achieving the Millennium Development Goals MDGs Developing countries will also need to implement significant policy reforms and strengthen institutions to improve the efficiency of service delivery in the face of fiscal constraints Unlike previous crises however this one was not caused by domestic policy failure in developing countries So better development outcomes will also hinge on a rapid global economic recovery that improves export conditions terms of trade and affordable capital flows as well as meeting aid commitments to low income countries Global Monitoring Report 2010 seventh in this annual series is prepared jointly by the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund It provides a development perspective on the global economic crisis and assesses the impact on developing countries their growth poverty reduction and other MDGs Finally it sets out priorities for policy responses both by developing countries and by the international community

Global Monitoring Report 2012 World Bank,International Monetary Fund,2012-04-24 This paper reviews economic developments in Barbados during the 1990s Economic activity declined during 1990 92 but began to recover in 1993 The recovery started slowly in 1993 but picked up in 1994 and real GDP grew by 3 8 percent in that year Adverse weather in 1994 led to a drop in sugar output in 1995 and a deceleration in the growth rate of the economy to 2 9 percent As sugar production reverted to normal levels real GDP growth reached 5 2 percent in 1996

Global Monitoring Report 2007 World Bank Publications,2007-01-01 The 2007 Global Monitoring Report on the Millennium Development Goals

MDGs assesses the contributions of developing countries, developed countries and international financial institutions toward meeting universally agreed development commitments. Fourth in a series of annual reports leading up to 2015, this year's report reviews key developments of the past year, emerging priorities and provides a detailed region-by-region picture of performance in the developing regions of the world, drawing on indicators for poverty, education, gender equality, health and other goals. Subtitled Confronting the Challenges of Gender Equality and Fragile States, this year's report highlights two key thematic areas: gender equality and empowerment of women (the third MDG) and the special problems of fragile states where extreme poverty is increasingly concentrated. The report, which is jointly issued by the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund, argues that gender equality and the empowerment of women are central to the development agenda. This is because gender equality makes good economic sense and because it helps advance the other development goals, including education, nutrition and reducing child mortality. Rapid progress has been made in some areas, such as achieving educational parity for girls in primary and secondary school in most countries. But in many other dimensions, including political representation and participation in nonagricultural employment, performance still falls short. Better monitoring and efforts at mainstreaming gender equality requires realistic goals, strong leadership, technical expertise and financing.

Global Monitoring Report 2014/2015 World Bank, International Monetary Fund, 2014-10-21. Charting a Course for a More Equitable World. The Global Monitoring Report 2014-2015 details progress toward the World Bank Group's twin goals: ending extreme poverty by 2030 and promoting shared prosperity. This report assesses policies and institutions vital for achieving these ambitious objectives. For policymakers, development practitioners and researchers, this report offers insightful analysis of global poverty trends and economic growth patterns, examination of human capital, social safety nets and environmental sustainability's role in development. Strategies for promoting inclusive and sustainable economic growth in developing and high income countries. A framework for international cooperation and aid effectiveness. This report is your guide to understanding the challenges and opportunities in building a more equitable and prosperous world for all.

EFA Global Monitoring Report - 2013-2014 - Teaching and Learning: Achieving quality for all UNESCO, 2014-02-04. The 2013-2014 Education for All Global Monitoring Report shows that a lack of attention to education quality and a failure to reach the marginalized have contributed to a learning crisis that needs urgent attention. Worldwide, 250 million children, many of them from disadvantaged backgrounds, are not learning the basics. Teaching and Learning: Achieving Quality for All describes how policy makers can support and sustain a quality education system for all children, regardless of background, by providing the best teachers. The Report also documents global progress in achieving Education for All goals and provides lessons for setting a new education agenda post 2015. In addition, the Report identifies that insufficient financing is hindering advances in education.

Tracking universal health coverage The World Bank, World Health Organization, 2023-11-14. The world is off track to make significant progress towards universal health coverage (UHC) SDG target 3.8 by 2030, as improvements to health services coverage have stagnated since 2015 and the proportion of the population that faced catastrophic levels of out of pocket OOP health spending has increased Global Monitoring Report International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (Washington, DC), 2004 Tracking universal health coverage: 2021 global monitoring report World Health Organization, The World Bank, 2021-12-12 The Tracking Universal Health Coverage 2021 Global Monitoring Report by the World Health Organization and the World Bank provides a comprehensive overview of the progress towards universal health coverage UHC globally It evaluates key Sustainable Development Goal indicators related to health service coverage and financial hardship from healthcare costs The report highlights trends inequalities and the impact of the COVID 19 pandemic on health services It aims to inform policymakers healthcare professionals and international organizations on the state of UHC and offers insights into improving health systems The intended audience includes researchers policy analysts and public health officials Education for All Global Monitoring Report 2008 United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), 2007-11-29 Working towards the 2015 millennium development goals this global report marks the midterm point and provides a rich evidence based assessment of the provision of education on a global scale Based on specialized commissions extensive consultations and multiple research sources the report provides an authoritative comparative reference Tracking Universal Health Coverage World Health Organization, 2015-07-21 This report is the first of its kind to measure health service coverage and financial protection to assess countries progress towards universal health coverage It shows that at least 400 million people do not have access to one or more essential health services and 6% of people in low and middle income countries are tipped into or pushed further into extreme poverty because of health spending Universal health coverage UHC means that all people receive the quality essential health services they need without being exposed to financial hardship A significant number of countries at all levels of development are embracing the goal of UHC as the right thing to do for their citizens It is a powerful social equalizer and contributes to social cohesion and stability Every country has the potential to improve the performance of its health system in the main dimensions of UHC coverage of quality services and financial protection for all Priorities strategies and implementation plans for UHC will differ from one country to another Enhanced and expanded monitoring of health under the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs should seek to build on that experience sharpening our focus on the key health service and financial protection interventions that underpin UHC Effective UHC tracking is central to achieving the global goals for poverty alleviation and health improvement set by the World Bank Group and WHO Without it policymakers and decision takers cannot say exactly where they are or set a course for where they want to go They cannot know whether they are focussing their efforts in the right areas or whether their efforts are making a difference Monitoring is thus fundamental to the achievement of UHC objectives It will also be vital to the realization of the SDGs This report is a critical step to show how monitoring progress can be done telling us what the state of coverage of interventions and financial protection is and telling us where to focus most EFA
