

First Flower in Spring

Outside our kitchen window, there is a tree. We don't see. I don't know what kind of tree it was when we first moved in.

Like that spring, the tree started to grow the buds and yellow petals. But there was still snow on the ground!

At first, I thought the yellow buds were the leaves of the tree. My mom agreed and guessed, "It must be the cold weather that turns the red leaves yellow. Instead of green."

But a few weeks later, green leaves began to appear on the tree branches along with the yellow petals! We then realized that the yellow "leaves" that appeared first were in fact flowers!

This was the first time we saw a tree with flowers before. How, the question made us all very excited!

Mom and Dad borrowed a book from the library. Together, we learned about the flowering plant. It is called magnolia. To us, it's the first sign of spring.
