Important OSHA Standards Contributing to Fewer Workplace Accidents

Standard 1910.132: Personal Protective Equipment: Protective equipment, including clothing, helmets, goggles and other eye protection, must be used when process or environment presents hazards. Electrical and other hazards of mechanical motions can cause bodily harm.

Standard 1910.147: Lock Out-Tag Out: Before any servicing or maintenance on a piece of machinery, the energy source must be isolated and the stored energy released. This standard is one of the "Big Six" OSHA standards that have saved the most lives.

Standard 1910.119: Process Safety Management (PSM): PSM is a set of procedures designed to prevent a major unplanned release of a highly hazardous chemical. OSHA estimates that 70% of workplace deaths and 75% of workplace injuries are preventable.

OSHA Inspections: OSHA inspectors conduct inspections to ensure that employers are following OSHA standards. Inspections can be initiated by OSHA, or by a complaint from a worker or a whistleblower. Inspections can result in citations, fines, and other penalties. OSHA also provides training and technical assistance to employers to help them comply with OSHA standards.
