Haunted Screen:

The Haunted Screen Lee Kovacs, 1999 While ghosts often inhabit films and literature devoted to the horror genre a group of literature based films from the 1930s and 1940s presents more human and romantic apparitions These films provide the underpinnings for many of the gentle supernatural films of the 1990s Tracing the links between specters as diverse as Rex Harrison s Captain Gregg and Patrick Swazye s Sam Wheat the text presents the evolution of the cinematic literary ghost from classic Gothic to the psychological sociological and political ideologies of today Included are analyses of the literary and film versions of classic ghost stories Wuthering Heights The Ghost and Mrs Muir Portrait of Jennie Letter from an Unknown Woman The Uninvited Liliom and Our Town as well as interpretations of modern films not based on literary works that show the influence of these predecessors Ghost and Truly Madly Deeply The text includes stills a bibliography and an index

Expressionist Film Dietrich Scheunemann, 2003 Beginning with a fundamentally new interpretation of Dr Caligari and with fresh views of other expressionist classics this book offers new perspectives on important alternative styles and genres that emerged in films by such eminent directors as Lubitsch Fritz Lang and E A Dupont

Uncanny Histories in Film and Media Patrice Petro, 2022-06-17 Uncanny Histories in Film and Media brings together a stellar lineup of established and emergent scholars who explore the uncanny twists and turns that are often occluded in larger accounts of film and media Prompted by fresh archival research and new conceptual approaches the works included here probe the uncanny as a mode of historical analysis that reveals surprising connections and unsettling continuities The uncanny stands for what often eludes us for what remains unfamiliar or mysterious or strange Whether writing about film movements individual works or the legacies of major or forgotten critics and theorists the contributors remind us that at the heart of the uncanny and indeed the writing of history is a troubling of definitions a challenge to our inherited narratives and a disturbance of what was once familiar in the uncanny histories of our field

Recollecting Lotte Eisner Naomi DeCelles, 2022-11-08 Recollecting Lotte Eisner provides the first in depth examination of the remarkable transnational career of film journalist archivist and historian Lotte Eisner 1896 1983 From her early years as a film critic in interwar Berlin to her escape from prison in occupied France and from her role as chief curator at the Cin math que fran aise to that as the mythic collective conscience of New German Cinema Eisner was a prolific writer and lecturer and a pivotal voice in early film and media studies Situated at the juncture of feminist media historiography and disciplinary intellectual history this groundbreaking book is based on extensive multilingual archival research and the excavation of a rich corpus of previously overlooked materials Introducing samples of Eisner s writing in translation this volume makes some of the most important contributions of a foundational scholar in the field of film studies accessible for the first time to an English language readership

Screen, 1996

Incorporating Images Brigitte Peucker, 2014-07-14 Film a latecomer to the realm of artistic media alludes to absorbs and undermines the discourses of the other arts literature and painting especially in order to carve out a position for itself among them Exposing the anxiety in film's relation to its rival arts Brigitte Peucker analyzes central issues involved in generic boundary crossing as they pertain to film and situates them in a theoretical framework The figure of the human body takes center stage in Peucker's innovative study for it is through this figure that the conjunction of literary and painterly discourses persistently articulates itself It is through the human body too that film's consciousness of itself as a hybrid text and as a machine for simulation makes itself deeply felt In films ranging from Weimar cinema through Griffith Hitchcock and Greenaway Peucker probes issues in aesthetics problematized by Diderot and Kleist among others She argues that the introduction of movement into visual representation occasioned by film brings with it an underlying tension suggestive of castration and death Peucker goes on to demonstrate how the encounter between narrative and image is both gendered and sexualized rendering film a monstrous hybrid In a final section she explores in specific cinematic texts the permeable boundary between the real and representation suggesting how effects such as tableau vivant and trompe l'oeil figure sexuality and death Originally published in 1995 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905
