Scientific Inquiry Cycle: Review

Science helps communities solve problems by applying knowledge and inventing things. Often "solved" with a local science such as water testing or waste management using science to make or improve solutions can have a positive impact. Understanding the problem fully, including its causes and effects, is the first step in finding an effective resolution.

Designing solutions becomes considering various conditions, such as budget, time, and safety concerns. Community members have part of a solution might be to challenge, determine, and try to improve or weigh their ideas with confidence. For example, creating materials for a house that they affect its cost and ease of use, cannot influence the effectiveness of the solution.

After identifying a solution, determining how it works, what constraints affected it, and any compromises that have already been and already involve on the idea. Communication, using design models, and reflecting on the results of the solution are important steps. The process of testing, sharing, and evaluating locally encourages responsible decision-making and team communication skills.
