Scientific Inquiry Cycle: Review

Science helps communities solve problems by applying knowledge and inventing things. After "test" with a local issue, such as water quality or waste management, using science to make or improve solutions can have a positive impact. Understanding the problem fully, including its causes and effects, is the first step in finding an effective solution.

Designing solutions begins by considering various conditions, such as budget, time, and safety concerns. Community members from a certain region face challenges, problems, and the impact of their lives made with difficulty. For example, creating resources for a water filter may affect its cost and ease of use, which influenced the effectiveness of the solution.

After identifying a solution, determining how it works, what conditions affected it, and any compromises that have already been and should involve on the way. Communication, using simple words, and reflecting on the results of the solution are important steps. The process of how designing science locally encourages responsible decision-making and team communication from.
