The three Maya astronomical tables known as Dresden, Madrid, and Paris had all been translated and published in Spanish before the middle of the nineteenth century. It was not until the 1970s that the work on the tables began to take shape. In 1973, the first of the three tables was published in the Journal of Interpersonal Communication. The second, the Madrid table, was published in 1975, and the third, the Paris table, in 1976. The three tables were published in a single volume in 1977. The present volume is a revised and expanded edition of the three tables, including the work on the tables by the authors and other scholars. The volume is published in a single volume, and includes the work on the tables by the authors and other scholars.
