

Globalization: Definition

- Globalization: The spread of products, technology, information, and jobs across national borders and cultures.
- Interdependence of nations around the globe fostered through free trade.
- Globalization: A process of interaction and integration among the people, companies, and governments of different nations, a process driven by international trade and investment and aided by information technology.
- Effects on the environment, culture, political systems, economic development and prosperity, and human physical well-being in societies around the world.
- Globalization is not new: For thousands of years, people—and corporations—have been buying from and selling to each other in lands at great distances (The Silk Road).
- People and corporations have invested in enterprises in other countries.
