travel magazines eagerly report on who's in and who's out in the latest edition of these indispensable travel companions known for their uncompromising integrity. The Guides feature only recommended establishments that deliver good value for the money from budget accommodations to five star hotels. Destinations that fail to live up to their promise are removed while newly proven discoveries are added. The emphasis is almost entirely on family or independently owned establishments from B&Bs to grand resorts. The Guides have been described as a triumph of participatory democracy. The editors combine their own research with comments from regular contributors and hundreds of volunteer reader correspondents. And The Guides are uncommonly good reads. They are championed by well known travel writers who themselves are voluntary contributors. A sure reason for their long term success is that the Guides are based on the concept that by following the advice of a trusted friend you can find the secret places that most guidebooks never find: the superb English country mansion, the perfect guesthouse beside a church, delightful Italian pensiones and grand French chateaux. The Good Hotel Guides specialize in discovering just such places for their thousands of devoted readers. These two companion volumes, eighteen countries across western and eastern Europe in one, Great Britain and Ireland in the other, are unsurpassed in their integrity and readability. No advertising, complimentary lodging or services are accepted by the reviewers.

The Cyprus Wine Guide Giannos Kōnstantinou, 2006     Wine Enthusiast Magazine Essential Buying Guide, 2008     Wine Enthusiast, 2008-08

The Complete Indian Wine Guide Aakash Singh Rathore, 2006     Serials in the British Library, 2008     Decanter, 2010     Femina, 2006     Hospitality, 2003     Managing Networks of Creativity Fiorenza Belussi, UDO HERMANN STABER, 2012-02-27. The aim of the Managing Networks of Creativity is to improve our understanding of creativity and the management of creativity as discussed in the fields of management, including strategic management, organization science, organizational behaviour and entrepreneurship, economics, sociology, regional studies and political science. While research on creativity has made several important contributions to the theoretical literature, little attention has been paid to the development and testing of formal theoretical models, especially in those cases where creativity is the result not so much of individual behaviour than the outcome of collective efforts connecting individuals in organizations, social networks, projects, geographic clusters and so forth. The proposed volume includes studies both conceptual and empirical which as a whole deconstruct the concept of creativity and the management of creativity by identifying specific situations, contexts, firms, clusters and districts in which creative processes evolve. The reader is provided with in depth discussions of theoretical issues and a range of descriptive cases and survey data that the authors use to explore or test concepts and models. Overall the volume aims to integrate current debates concerning the role of creativity and innovation in economic and social development.
