Essential Formal Semantics:

Formal Semantics Paul H. Portner, Barbara H. Partee, 2008-04-15 Formal Semantics: The Essential Readings is a collection of seminal papers that have shaped the field of formal semantics in linguistics. The Elements of Mathematical Semantics Maurice V. Aldridge, 2011-06-01 TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS is a series of books that open new perspectives in our understanding of language. The series publishes state-of-the-art work on core areas of linguistics across theoretical frameworks as well as studies that provide new insights by building bridges to neighbouring fields such as neuroscience and cognitive science. TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS considers itself a forum for cutting-edge research based on solid empirical data on language in its various manifestations including sign languages. It regards linguistic variation in its synchronic and diachronic dimensions as well as in its social contexts as important sources of insight for a better understanding of the design of linguistic systems and the ecology and evolution of language. TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS publishes monographs and outstanding dissertations as well as edited volumes which provide the opportunity to address controversial topics from different empirical and theoretical viewpoints. High quality standards are ensured through anonymous reviewing. Nute, Donald: Essential formal semantics, 1981. Advances in Web-Age Information Management Masaru Kitsuregawa, 2006-06-09 Contains the proceedings of the 7th International Conference on Web Age Information Management WAIM 2006. The papers are organized in topical sections on indexing XML query processing information retrieval sensor networks and grid computing peer-to-peer systems Web services Web searching caching and moving objects clustering and more. This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 7th International Conference on Web Age Information Management WAIM 2006 held in Hong Kong, China, in June 2006. The 50 revised full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 290 submissions. The papers are organized in topical sections on indexing XML query processing information retrieval sensor networks and grid computing peer-to-peer systems Web services Web searching caching and moving objects temporal database clustering clustering and classification data mining data stream processing XML and semistructured data data distribution and query processing and advanced applications. Meaning in the Brain Giosue Baggio, 2018-07-24 An argument that the meaning of written or auditory linguistic signals is not derived from the input but results from the brain's internal construction process. When we read a text or listen to speech, meaning seems to be given to us instantaneously as if it were part of the input. In Meaning in the Brain, Giosue Baggio explains that this is an illusion created by the tremendous speed at which sensory systems and systems for meaning and grammar operate in the brain. Meaning in the Brain argues that meaning is not derived from input but results from the brain's internal construction process. With this book, Baggio offers the first integrated multilevel theory of semantics in the brain, describing how meaning is generated during language comprehension, production, and acquisition. Baggio's theory draws on recent advances in formal semantics and pragmatics, including vector space semantics, discourse representation theory, and signaling game theory. It is designed to explain a growing body of experimental results on semantic processing that have accumulated in the absence of a unifying theory since the introduction of electrophysiology and neuroimaging methods Baggio argues that there is evidence for the existence of three semantic systems in the brain relational semantics interpretive semantics and evolutionary semantics and he discusses each in turn developing neural theories of meaning for all three Moreover in the course of his argument Baggio addresses several long standing issues in the neuroscience of language including the role of compositionality as a principle of meaning construction in the brain the role of sensory motor processes in language comprehension and the neural and evolutionary links among meaning consciousness sociality and action
