Department of State Wireless Bulletin ,1950-10 Our War Too Margaret Paton-Walsh,2002 In the late 1930s a number of American women especially those allied with various peace and isolationist groups protested against the nation's entry into World War II While their story is fairly well known Margaret Paton Walsh reveals a far less familiar story of women who fervently felt that American intervention was absolutely necessary Paton Walsh recounts how the United States became involved in the war but does so through the eyes of American women who faced it as a necessary evil Covering the period between 1935 and 1941 she examines how these women functioned as political actors even though they were excluded from positions of power through activism in women's organizations informal women's networks and even male dominated lobbying groups In the Great Debate over whether America should enter the war some women favored aid to the Allies not because they hoped for war but because they hoped aid would forestall more direct U S involvement but also because they believed war was preferable to a Nazi victory Paton Walsh shows that this activism involved some of the most prominent women of their day Elizabeth Cutter Morrow whose son in law Charles Lindbergh was an isolationist spokesman supported the revision of the Neutrality Acts to allow the sale of arms to the Allies and expressed her support in a national radio broadcast Soon other women joined this debate Esther Brunauer of the AAUW journalist Dorothy Thompson and organizations like the League of Women Voters and National Women's Trade Union League broke from the pacifist tradition to advocate American aid for the Allied cause Focusing on the conflict in Europe Paton Walsh shows how these women grasped the implications of the Lend Lease program for America's entry into the war but supported it nevertheless By late 1941 the Women's Division of the Fight for Freedom Committee had been established no longer merely advocating aid to Britain to keep American boys out of battle this organization supported direct American involvement in the war as a means of stopping Nazi oppression While most historians have focused on women's pacifism Paton Walsh connects women more directly to world events and shows how those interventionists reformulated maternalist ideas to justify and explain their beliefs Our War Too is a story of American women trying to reconcile the irreconcilable to preserve both their principles and their peace It expands our understanding of women as political actors and thinkers about foreign policy as it sheds new light on American public opinion over the build up to the war

The Public ,1913 Curtain of Lies Melissa Feinberg,2017-05-04 While the Cold War governments of Eastern Europe operated within the confines of the Soviet worldview their peoples confronted the narratives of both East and West From the Soviet Union and its satellites they heard of a West dominated by imperialist warmongers and of the glorious future only Communism could bring A competing discourse emanated from the West claiming that Eastern Europe was a totalitarian land of captive slaves powerless in the face of Soviet aggression In Curtain of Lies Melissa Feinberg conducts a timely examination into the nature of truth using the political culture of Eastern Europe during the Cold War as her foundation Focusing on the period between 1948 and 1956 she looks at how the truth of Eastern Europe was delineated by actors on both sides of the Iron Curtain Feinberg offers a fresh interpretation of the Cold War as a shared political environment exploring the ways in which ordinary East Europeans interacted with these competing understandings of their homeland She approaches this by looking at the relationship between the American sponsored radio stations broadcast across the Iron Curtain and the East European migrants they interviewed as sources on life under Communism Feinberg's careful analysis reveals that these parties developed mutually reinforced assumptions about the meaning of Communism helping to create the evidentiary foundation for totalitarian interpretations of Communist rule in Eastern Europe In bridging the geopolitical and the individual Curtain of Lies provides a perspective that is both innovative in its methodology and indispensable to its field The Typographical Journal, 1900 Lala Lajpat Rai Lajpat Rai (Lala), 1907 Education, 1911 Happiness and the Christian Moral Life Paul J. Wadell, 2008 A Sheed Ward book Includes bibliographical references and index Finding a path for life the quest for goodness and happiness Not going it alone friendship and community in the Christian moral life Facing shipwreck and bandits virtues and the quest for happiness Every person's truth made in the image of God called to do the work of God Freedom exploring a dangerous topic False steps on the path to happiness losing our way and finding it back Finding a story worth handing on narrative and the moral life Doing what the good requires conscience and prudence in the moral life The gift that makes all gifts possible learning the language of love Reimagining the world why the happiness of one demands justice for all Year Book of the Holland Society of New-York Holland Society of New York, 1922 The Survey, 1907 Mind, 1891 A quarterly review of philosophy The Foundations of the Constitution David Hutchison, 1928 Conditions of Social Well-being David Cunningham (Civil engineer), 1878 History of the Jews Heinrich Graetz, 1895 Gesta Christ, Or, A History of Humane Progress Under Christianity Charles Loring Brace, 1888
