Encounters With Communism:

Seeing Red David Bonavia,1987 Americans and Chinese Communists, 1927-1945 Kenneth E. Shewmaker,2020-06-30
No detailed description available for Americans and Chinese Communists 1927 1945 Encounters with Lenin Nikolay Valentinov,1968 The Cause That Failed: Communism in American Political Life Guenter Lewy,1990-09-13 From a height of almost 100 000 members during the Depression when politicians workers and intellectuals were drawn into its orbit the American Communist Party has descended into irrelevance and isolation failing even to run a presidential candidate in 1988 Indeed as Guenter Lewy writes in this critical account of American Communism despite decades of feverish activity and ferocious discipline it was a cause doomed to fail from the very beginning In The Cause that Failed Lewy offers an incisive narrative of the American Communist Party from the days of John Reed to the advent of glasnost He traces its origins and development underscoring how its devotion to Moscow and inflexible Marxist ideology isolated it from the American scene in fact most of its first members were Eastern European immigrants During the left wing tide of the Depression the Communist Party reached the peak of its influence as it joined labor unions and progressive organizations in a Popular Front But Lewy reveals the deceptive antidemocratic self defeating tactics the Communists pursued even then as they manipulated front organizations seized control of political parties peace groups and labor unions and enforced political conformity among members and sympathizers He follows the Party through its inexorable decline in the succeeding decades up to its current position as one of the last Stalinist parties left in a world of glasnost and perestroika Lewy also provides a sharply critical discussion of the encounter between Communism and liberal and mainstream America He examines such groups as the ACLU and SANE arguing that the years when these organizations were tolerant toward Communists were also the times when they neglected their original purpose in favor of partisan causes He shows how Communists have manipulated well meaning citizens in the peace movement and in Wallace s 1948 Progressive Party presidential campaign One of the great ills Americans suffer he writes is an overreaction to McCarthyism an atmosphere of anti anticommunism which blinds them to the wrongs wrought by international Communism and makes them ignore the deceptive role played by the American Communist Party which even today still keeps eighty percent of its membership secret The Cause that Failed presents an intensively researched and trenchantly argued historical analysis of Communism in America Guenter Lewy s provocative account provides a new understanding of Communism s machinations in U S politics and how Americans from across the political spectrum have responded to its challenge Communism and the Theologians Charles C. West,1958 A Protestant Church in Communist China John Craig William Keating,2012-02-16 Freedom of religious belief is guaranteed under the constitution of the People s Republic of China but the degree to which this freedom is able to be exercised remains a highly controversial issue Much scholarly attention has been given to persecuted underground groups such as Falun but one area that remains largely unexplored is the relationship between officially registered churches and the communist government This study investigates the history of one such official church Moore Memorial Church in Shanghai This church was founded by American Methodist missionaries By the time of the 1949 revolution it was the largest Protestant church in East Asia running seven day a week programs As a case study of one individual church operating from an historical rather than theological perspective this study examines the experience of people at this church against the backdrop of the turbulent politics of the Mao and Deng eras It asks and seeks to answer questions such as were the people at the church pleased to see the foreign missionaries leave Were people forced to sign the so called Christian manifesto Once the church doors were closed in 1966 did worshipers go underground Why was this particular church especially chosen to be the first re opened in Shanghai in 1979 What explanations are there for its phenomenal growth since then A considerable proportion of the data for this study is drawn from Chinese language sources including interviews personal correspondence statistics internal church documents and archives many of which have never previously been published or accessed by foreign researchers The main focus of this study is on the period from 1949 to 1989 a period in which the church experienced many ups and downs restrictions and limitations The Mao era in particular remains one of the least understood and seldom written about periods in the history of Christianity in China This study therefore makes a significant contribution to our evolving understanding of the delicate balancing act between compromise co operation and compliance that categorizes church state relations in modern China

Communist-Christian Encounter in East Europe Robert Tobias,1956 God in Public Mark G. Toulouse,2006-01-01 In this important study Mark Toulouse maps the ambiguous landscape between American Christianity and American public life Built on an extensive study of religious periodical literature since the mid 1950s and on an analysis of landmark events in American history Toulouse develops an insightful typology for understanding how Americans have related their Christian faith to public life For Toulouse the relationship between American Christianity and American public life exists in four styles of interaction iconic faith priestly faith the public Christian and the public church with each model appearing in various forms across the terrain of American history Carefully examined and accessibly written this study is sure to generate discussion and bring clarity to the many ambiguities and diversities that continue to mark American Christianity
