Forgotten Flies:

Forgotten Flies Paul Schmookler, Ingrid V. Sils, 1999-01-01 Philosophical dialogues with my friend Pi SERGI CASTILLO LAPEIRA, 2024-03-03 The Philosophical Dialogues with my Friend Pi are an intellectual experiment with which the author wanted to carry out an incursion into the field of artificial intelligence to try to elucidate what the current limits of this technology are and find out to what extent point a machine can emulate one of the most outstanding characteristics of the human condition the ability to reason from a philosophical point of view Throughout these pages therefore the reader will find a great diversity of topics and questions that have been part of philosophical work for more than 2 500 years many of which remain without a convincing answer It can be said without a doubt that the performance of artificial intelligence for this task has been surprisingly good which leads the author to think that artificial intelligence is being improved day by day so that in the very near future there will be very few areas of human reality that will not be improved by this technology We can only hope that this improvement will contribute to filling the gaps and difficulties that human beings have faced since they appeared on this planet

The Stricklands Edwin Lanham, 2002 In The Stricklands Edwin Lanham tells the story of two brothers tenant farmers who faced losing their land in 1930s Oklahoma One brother turns to stealing the other struggles to unite whites and blacks against the exploitative landowners Originally published in 1939 this novel provides insight into rural life in Depression era Oklahoma A new foreword by Lawrence Rodgers sets Lanham's novel in its historical regional and literary context

Making Death Matter Tara Mehrabi, 2016-11-18 This thesis is a contribution to feminist laboratory studies and a critical engagement with the natural sciences or more precisely research on the biochemical workings and deadly relations of Alzheimer's disease emanating from a year of field work in a Drosophila fly lab The natural sciences have been a point of fascination within the field of gender studies for decades Such sciences produce knowledge on what gets to count as nature and natural healthy or sick normal or not and they have done it with great societal authority and impact throughout European modernity However feminist technoscience scholars argue that science and knowledge is socially produced and political too Concepts such as nature animal human body sex and life itself are not simply given natural realities but phenomena processed through the naturecultures of the laboratory Situated within such theoretical and methodological approaches this thesis wonders how scientific facts about Alzheimer's disease are made in the lab today What kinds of realities bodies and ethico political concerns are enacted Who gets to live and who gets to die in everyday laboratory practices Theoretically the thesis is grounded particularly within Karen Barad's agential realism and posthumanist performativity and as such it accounts for human and nonhuman entanglements through which AD is performed in the lab in relational ways In other words the thesis explores how AD is enacted in the bodies of transgenic fruit flies Drosophila melanogaster as these flies embody the disease live and die with it Last but not least the thesis explores the materialities of death dying embodiment and biological waste in a biochemistry lab as constitutive parts of the produced knowledge about

AD Denna avhandling utgör ett bidrag till feministiska laboratoriestudier och är en kritisk analys av naturvetenskaperna. Närmare bestämt är det en feministisk studie av forskning om Alzheimers sjukdom dess biokemiska verkningar och de olika relationer utifrån ett forskningsarbete som labbtekniker i ett flyglabb. Naturvetenskaperna har under decennier fascinerat genusforskare. Dessa discipliner formar kunskapen om vad som räknas som natur och naturligt. Hälso- och sjukdom normalt eller inte och de har gjort sig med stor samhällslig auktoritet genom Europeisk modernitet. Forskare inom feministiska teknovetenskapliga studier har länge påvisat att vetenskap också är social praktik med politiska implikationer. Begrepp som natur, djur, människt eller kroppskän och livet självt kan inte tas för givna utan formas också i laboratoriets naturkultur. Med utgångspunkt i sådana feministiska teknovetenskapliga teoribildningar och metodologiska utgångspunkter bearbetar denna avhandling frågor om hur vetenskapliga fakta om Alzheimers sjukdom skapas i laboratoriet idag. Vilka kroppar verkligheter och etisk-politiska förhållningssätt aktualiseras. Vem får leva och vem får dö i vardagliga laboratoriepraktiker. Teoretiskt bygger avhandlingen framför allt på Karen Barads agentiella realism. När den diskuterar sammanväningen mellan människt och icke-människt samt det som kallas posthumanistisk performativitet i relation till Alzheimers sjukdom som den fysiska kroppens i transgena fruktflugor Drosophila melanogaster i laboratoriet. I särskilt fokus står relationerna som skapas inom den biokemiska forskningen kring de biologiska avfall och kroppslighet.

Along the way he reintroduces us to familiar foes like the fruit fly and mosquito and gives us the chance to meet their lesser known cousins like the Petroleum Fly the only animal in the world that breeds in crude oil and the Chocolate Midge the sole pollinator of the Cacao tree

No matter your outlook on our tiny buzzing neighbors Super Fly will change the way you look at flies forever

after performing a concert at London's Royal Academy of Music twenty year old American flautist Edwin Rist boarded a train for a suburban outpost of the British Museum of Natural History Home to one of the largest ornithological collections in the world the Tring museum was full of rare bird specimens whose gorgeous feathers were worth staggering amounts of money to the men who shared Edwin's obsession the Victorian art of salmon fly tying Once inside the museum the champion fly tier grabbed hundreds of bird skins some collected 150 years earlier by a contemporary of Darwin's Alfred Russel Wallace who d risked everything to gather them and escaped into the darkness Two years later Kirk Wallace Johnson was waist high in a river in northern New Mexico when his fly fishing guide told him about the heist He was soon consumed by the strange case of the feather thief What would possess a person to steal dead birds Had Edwin paid the price for his crime What became of the missing skins In his search for answers Johnson was catapulted into a years long worldwide investigation The gripping story of a bizarre and shocking crime and one man's relentless pursuit of justice The Feather Thief is also a fascinating exploration of obsession and man's destructive instinct to harvest the beauty of nature
