Excerpt from Essays in Miniature To read with all the satisfaction in our power and with a simple surrendering of ourselves to the pleasure which has no peer There are so many things to be considered now besides pleasure that we have well nigh abandoned the effort to be pleased In the first place it is necessary to keep up with a decent proportion of current literature and this means perpetual labor and speed whereas idleness and leisure are requisite for the true enjoyment Of books In the second place few of us are brave enough to withstand the pressure which friends mentors and critics bring to bear upon us and which effectually crushes anything like the weak indulgence Of our own tastes The reading they recommend being generally in the nature of a corrective it is urged upon us with little regard to personal inclination in fact the less we like it the greater our apparent need There are people in this world who always insist upon others remodeling their diet on a purely hygienic basis who entreat us to avoid sweets or acids or tea or coffee or whatever About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
